

Centre des arts actuels Skol

Active since 1984, Skol is a non-profit artist-run centre that supports experimentation and emerging practices in the visual arts. Skol offers itself to artists and other professionals in the arts milieu (curators, art historians, educators, etc.) as a physical and critical space, encouraging collaborations with its members to create and produce dynamic experiences. Artists, producers, researchers, organizers and thinkers are all invited to take risks, together with the centre's members, in order to develop new knowledge and thus contribute to the advancement of artistic practice.
