

The Red Head Gallery

The Red Head Gallery, celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary in 2015, is a professional artists' cooperative committed to exhibiting the work of established and emerging artists, and to encouraging work that is critically engaged within a wide range of contemporary discourse. The Red Head Gallery was established in 1990, and is Toronto's most enduring collectively run art gallery. It has stood the test of time as an exhibition space, and as a collective where critically engaged, highly productive artists enjoy curatorial control over the presentation of their work. Over the past two decades, more than one hundred artists have been part of The Red Head Gallery, producing over two hundred exhibitions.
